OPENHOUSE IS OPEN!

Dear Community,

As you may have heard, the SF LGBT Center is preparing for a renovation. Someone will need to let you into the building during the month of January. When you arrive at the main door for your appointment, service or program, a staff member or volunteer will be there to greet you. If you have any problem or need assistance, please call (415) 296-8995 to request to be let in.

As you can see, the January calendar is full with all the Openhouse activities, workshops and discussion groups you'd expect as we kick off a new year.

We look forward to seeing you in the New Year!

P.S. We are seeking additional volunteers to staff the doors and greet people. If you're interested in helping out, please call Ariel Mellinger at (415) 503-4180. We thank you in advance.

Got a story to tell?

StoryCorps is a national nonprofit organization whose mission is to provide people of all backgrounds the opportunity to record, share, and preserve their stories.

StoryCorps recognizes the profound historical importance of capturing the stories of the LGBTQ community and the urgent need for this work to happen now! The OutLoud initiative is dedicated to recording and preserving LGBTQ stories across America and will honor the stories of those who lived before the 1969 Stonewall uprisings.

Openhouse has reserved 6 slots at the StoryCorps booth at the SF Public Library on Thursday, February 18th to make sure your stories are included.

- You can come with a friend or solo.
- You will walk away with a broadcast quality CD and have the option to release your story to NPR and/or have it archived in the Library of Congress.

Please contact Ariel at (415) 503-4180 or ariel@openhouse-sf.org to reserve your hour to record by February 1st.

Want more information about StoryCorps? Visit their website at <https://storycorps.org/>

Looking for Housing? Interested in 55 Laguna?

Mature Transgender Women's Support Group Starting this Spring*

People are people. We just want to be ourselves.

Sylvia Rivera (1951-2002)

Please join us for a peer-driven drop-in support group for mature* transwomen. This welcoming group will seek to share and understand our common experiences as trans people and the differences that make us each unique. Through telling our stories we learn we are not alone and we bring more meaning, strength, community, and power to our lives. Time and location to be determined. Group will be free.

Please email fairley@openhouse-sf.org or call (415) 728-0193 for more info., to get on the interest list, and to let us know what meeting times are good for you.

*Advanced, old, older, seasoned, senior, whatever! Join us!

Join us for a film matinee at 30th St. Senior Center

Documented

In 2011, Pulitzer Prize-winning gay journalist Jose Antonio Vargas outed himself as an undocumented immigrant in an essay published in the New York Times. DOCUMENTED chronicles his journey to America from the Philippines as a child; his journey through America as an activist; and his journey inward as he re-connects with his mother, whom he hasn't seen in over 20 years.

Wed., January 13th at 2PM
225 30th St. SF, 3rd floor
Runtime 90 minutes

Did you know that Openhouse has a group at Laguna Honda Hospital?

Each month, Openhouse staff, volunteers and LGBT Laguna Honda residents come together for games, discussions, art projects, and more. If you'd like to join us as an Openhouse volunteer, we'd love to have you! The group meets on the second Tuesday of each month from 1:45-3:30pm.

Please contact MSW intern, Annette, at (415) 231-5870 or annette@openhouse-sf.org for more info.

Do You Know About "Shop-A-Round"?

Shop-a-Round is a shuttle that makes it easier to go grocery shopping! The service offers seniors and people with disabilities personalized assistance in getting to and from the grocery store. The shuttle takes groups to grocery stores or supermarkets in San Francisco where they want to shop. The driver will help carry groceries on and off the shuttle.

Registered riders must meet at least one of these qualifications: Age 65 or older or disabled and have an RTC Discount ID Card or Eligible for ADA Paratransit services. Applications are available online and by calling Manuel Martinez at Openhouse (415) 347-8509.

When We Were Outlaws

Thursday, January 28th, 1 pm at Openhouse

When We Were Outlaws offers a rare view of the life of a radical lesbian during the early cultural struggle for gay rights, Women's Liberation, and the New Left of the 1970s.

Brash and ambitious, activist Jeanne Córdova is living with one woman and falling in love with another, but her passionate beliefs tell her that her first duty is "to the revolution" -to change the world and end discrimination against gays and lesbians. At the same time she is creating what will be the center of her revolutionary lesbian world: her own news magazine, The Lesbian Tide, destined to become the voice of the national lesbian feminist movement.

By turns provocative and daringly honest, Cordova renders emblematic scenes of the era—ranging from strike protests to utopian music festivals, to underground meetings with radical fugitives—with period detail and evocative characters. For those who came of age in the '70s, and for those who weren't around but still ask 'What was it like?', Outlaws takes you back to relive it.

Enjoy Healthy Delicious Lunch

Project Open Hand invites seniors (60+) to join us for free, healthy lunch – and great company! We serve warm, delicious lunch for seniors every day at 15 dining rooms across San Francisco. Many of our lunch sites offer activities for seniors, movies, arts, exercise, and music. To sign up, please call 415-447-2300 one day in advance to guarantee a meal is available for you.

Openhouse and Project Open Hand are proud partners serving LGBT seniors in our community.

This Is Who We Are by Emerald O'Leary

As the year begins we remember the stories told in our community. Every day we join Openhouse groups and classes to meet others like us. Some of us walk in lonely and afraid yet we come to learn from, and lean on, each other with a sigh of relief at being present with others in our authenticity.

Aging can be filled with loss: the death of family and friends, the realities of our aging bodies, the shifts from careers and public positions. Sometimes old fears drive into our dreams just when we thought we had sorted everything out.

We come to understand the responsibility of an elder is to listen to one another and to search for and welcome those who have been looking for us. Our histories can guide and enrich generations. We, who were called to collective action 40 and 50 years ago are now called to redefine the role of elder. We may not have been Harvey Milk's boyfriend or Del Martin's pool partner, but every story we release into the world offers something: experience, insight, and hope. When we know our stories, we can see how much we have to give.

As elders of our tribe, our stories are our collective umbilical cord to our multicultural and shared pasts, and the link to our common present and future. Our tales reveal the journeys that drove us from our homes to seek freedom, often despite tremendous odds. By listening to one another we provide solace and friendship to ourselves as we move through aging in a society intent on preserving and celebrating youth. The wisdom and courage of the elders of our tribe is needed now. Let's remember where we came from.

Here are some of our 2015 interviewees: Who can forget Richard Brink who sold his first cow at age 14 and now runs our chronic fatigue group? We met acclaimed and effervescent nurse practitioner Susan Langdon; Chaplains Renee and Rick; Jasmine Gee, whose work at Martin de Porres and the Bicycle Coalition keeps us pushing forward; and Charlie Levan, who spoke of his activist mother and his own commitment to volunteerism.

We met Dana Vinicoff, musician and conductor, who works with the San Francisco Organizing Project and the women's writing group and Richard Marino, who told of his work with "Gay Gray Writers." Community member and filmmaker, Jeanine Reisbig, produced a documentary about Openhouse and said, "I want to show a film that respects and honors the work (of Openhouse) and the people it serves."

Kristian Nergaard, triathlete, organized the International Gay games, and is a Gold Medal winner. Varian Piece facilitates "Clearing House," and reminded us that, "Hoarders are creative thinkers." Shessa, an activist and artist, told us of her spirited trek across country in the Great Peace March for Global Nuclear Disarmament.

We have all been leaders. Through our words we reshape the image of elder.

Please think about offering your story. It is an honor to know you.

Feeling Down or Depressed? New Community Resources Available

The Institute on Aging (IOA) and University of California, San Francisco (UCSF) Geriatrics Division are participating in a two-year, $300,000 grant from the Archstone Foundation to support a unique partnership opportunity to treat late-life depression for some of the most vulnerable and isolated elders in San Francisco.

The IOA Psychology Department has established a Behavioral Health Screening and Home Visit Psychotherapy program that provides mental health therapy to elders in the community who are unable to access services. UCSF's Housecalls and Center for Geriatric Care serve San Francisco's home-bound elders who are in need of home-based primary care.

Questions? Call IOA CONNECT for more information: (415) 750-4111.

Passionate about politics? Have a lot to say about current events?

Opera Lovers!

If you're an opera lover and want to watch an opera DVD with other aficionados, this is the group for you! Each month we bring our DVD's, peruse the extensive Openhouse collection, and decide by a vote which one to watch. If there is a rare opera that you'd like to see, we'll try to find it for you.

Plus, those who join us for the Opera group at Openhouse will be the first to be notified in the event that we can secure some tix to the War Memorial Opera House for a live show. Stay tuned and join us!

Connections for Healthy Aging Workshop

for LGBT Community Members age 55+

Openhouse is once again partnering with the Community Living Campaign to offer this empowering workshop series. Building on techniques of peer training, this series uses community connections to co-create and support healthy aging. Workshop leaders include Marcia Peterzell, Linda Silver and Marie Jobling.

- Assessing your own personal goals for Healthy Aging
- Learning how to build a network of support to help you reach those goals.
- Important documents every LGBT senior should have
- Proven ways to prevent isolation and loneliness
- Tips and resources for how you or a loved one can survive a hospital stay
- Simple, online tools that can support us to be empowered as we age.
- Housing issues and strategies for LGBT seniors

Four-Week Workshop Series

Thursdays, Feb. 18th- March 10th

10AM to 1PM

Participants should attend all 4 dates. Exact location TBD.
Series will take place in San Francisco and be accessible.

Health and Wellness Fridays are Back!

Join us for the first seminar of 2016 to learn techniques for effectively communicating with your doctor through the aging process. Communication is key, but not without its challenges!

Date: Friday, February 26, 2016

Time: 3:00 - 4:30 PM

Location TBD

This seminar will be led by Dr. Daniel Pound, Professor of Family and Community Medicine and Medical Director of the UCSF Center for Geriatric Care since 1996. Pound provides primary medical care to older adults in San Francisco and teaches medical students and residents about care of the elderly.

4 For more information, contact Ariel Mellinger at (415) 503-4180 or ariel@openhouse-sf.org

Save the Date

In celebration of Black History Month, Openhouse has invited African American genealogist Phil James to present a talk on the subject of researching one's Black ancestors. Mr. James will address the challenges involved in tracing an African-American family line. We especially encourage African Americans, other people of color, and women to join us.

Other topics of discussion will include:

- The basic tools used in genealogy
- The use of DNA results
- Challenges in tracing LGBT, women, Native American, and immigrant ancestors
- The importance of sources

There will also be a live demonstration of creating a family tree.

DATE: Thursday, February 18, 2016

PLACE: Western Addition Senior Center

1390 1/2 Turk Street

TIME: 3:00 - 6:00 PM with a break in between

Light refreshments will be served.

All those who wish to participate in this event are asked to register with our Education Coordinator, Armando Paone, at (415) 728-0194 or by email armando@openhouse-sf.org

Chaplain's Corner

On Death and Dying III

Sometimes I feel like my story doesn't matter. I mean, who REALLY cares? Yet I find myself drawn to the stories of others and am awed by what I hear: wonderful tales of courage, survival, and celebration that shape the unique experiences of each and every one of us. I continue to learn that our stories matter.

Someone once told me that spirituality is the awareness of what a gift you are to the world; irreplaceable and delectable. Your narrative is a gift. Sometimes I am tempted to think of my life as common; lost in a school of fish, caught up in history and forgotten. It is not and our narratives are not so easily extinguished. My body ages, I forget things, I get tired easily – but my story stays young. No matter what age I am, telling my story enlightens the listener and myself. I have given them a gift. In fact, we have exchanged gifts- no holiday needed. We can have a good laugh at death, knowing that our stories outlive our last breath. Tell them, hear them, cherish them, and no one will be forgotten.

With Affection, Chaplain Rick.

LGBT Caring Community Online Support Group

This group is a place for LGBT caregivers of adults with chronic health problems to discuss caring for their partners, friends and family members. Would you like to talk with other caregivers? Ask for support during a difficult moment? The group is presented in partnership with Family Caregiver Alliance and is facilitated by Openhouse volunteer facilitator Mark Braverman. To join or for more information please email sylvia@openhouse-sf.org or call (415) 659-8123

8-weeks of Self Care: — CULTIVATING RESILIENCY — Support Group

The Openhouse Self Care Group offers a place to practice compassion towards oneself in the midst of never ending change. The group is facilitated by Molly Reno. In this group we focus on savoring the time remaining in our lives, cultivating resiliency, nurturing capacities for self-love and support, and living more intentionally in the now. Discussion of personal issues as well as reflection on unending life changes is encouraged. This group is a resource for people wanting to increase self-care skills.

Group is limited to seven participants. Brief one-on-one intake interviews are required. Group will meet at Agesong in SF, on Monday nights from 5:30-7PM, starting this February with exact start date TBD. For more information or to schedule an intake interview call Fairley at (415) 728-0193 or email fairley@openhouse-sf.org

Molly Reno has 10 years experience facilitating support groups for women with cancer, psychology grad students and the Self Care Group at Openhouse. Molly is a certified somatic life coach and is currently studying advances in neuroscience as applied to the emotional brain.

MUTTVILLE senior dog rescue

Every 2nd Friday at 2PM

255 Alabama
(near Harrison & 16th)

Muttville's mission is to change the way the world treats older dogs and to create better lives for them through rescue, foster, and adoption.

We visit Muttville on the 2nd Friday of each month at 2PM and we invite you to join us. You'll hang out with a handful of sweet dogs in a cozy living-room like setting. You can also elect to walk with the dogs.

To RSVP for Friday, January 8th call or email: (415) 503-4180 or ariel@openhouse-sf.org

Muttville also offers a Seniors for Seniors Adoption program. If you are 62+ years of age, Muttville will waive the $200 adoption fee and you will receive a customized senior welcome kit!

Grief Group at Openhouse

Wednesdays 5:30-7PM beginning 2/17/16

This 10-week group supports and assists individuals in their grief experience.

Grief comes out of life's losses such as separation or loss of loved ones, physical health, career, or shared activities.

The Grief Group's focus is on understanding loss and suffering as a human experience from which no one is exempt. Emphasis includes trust-building, sharing experiences, coping strategies, and working toward acceptance of change and loss.

This is a closed group (not drop-in) and intake interviews with the facilitators are required prior to joining the group. Intakes will take place February 3rd and 10th from 5-7pm. To sign up for an intake interview please call (415) 728-0193 or email fairley@openhouse-sf.org

Co facilitators:

Den Reno, Ph.D., is now in his fifth year offering support groups at Openhouse. Den retired as a clinical psychologist in 2010. He realizes life is stressful and uneasy with no way to escape pain and loss. However, the opportunity to heal and find new ways of living and loving remain.

Fairley Parson, MSW, ASW, is an associate clinical social worker and manager of community engagement at Openhouse. She believes in the healing power of groups and facilitates the Openhouse women's supportgroup and grief groups.
